MADEIRA

An Island Garden in the Atlantic

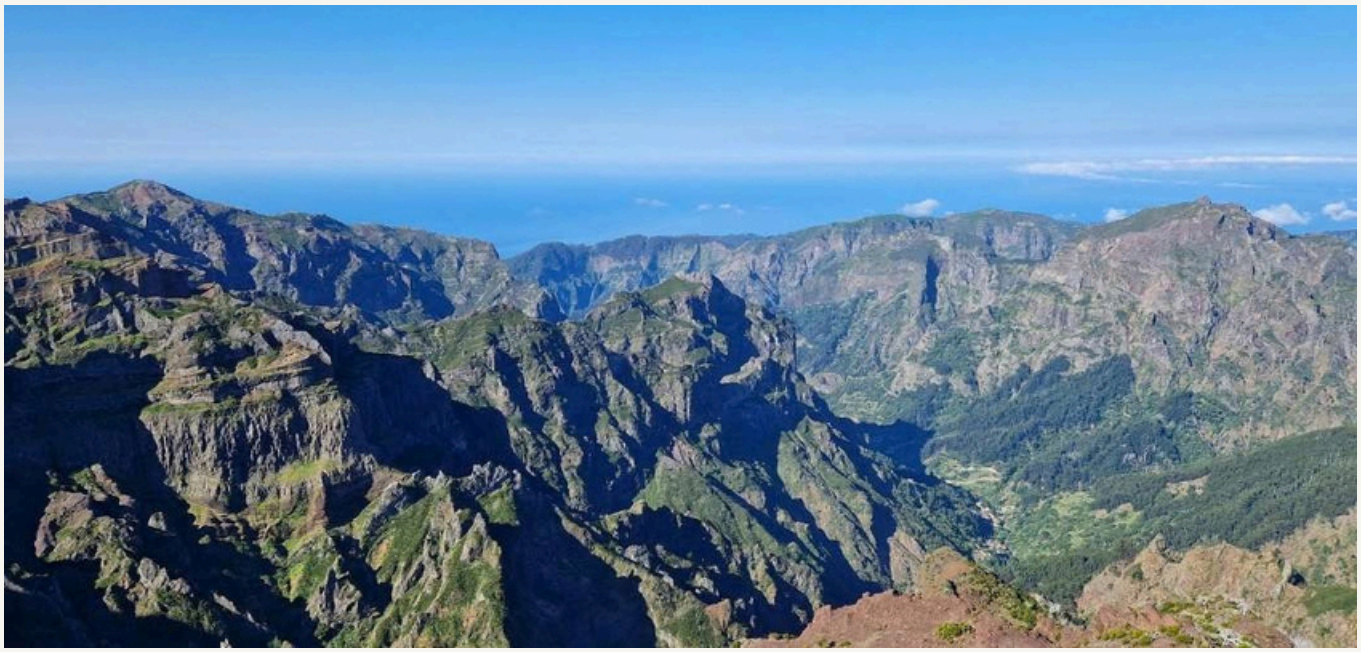
A destination shaped by its own rhythm.

Madeira is an island of strong contrasts: lush forest, steep mountains, cliffside roads, a sophisticated capital and a coastline made for exploration. Open-air experiences are central to the island.



THE DESTINATION

01 LEVADAS

02 FUNCHAL

03 MOUNTAINS

04 OCEAN

Discover Madeira one layer at a time.

THE GARDEN

Flowers, tropical vegetation and protected Laurissilva create a distinctive island landscape.

THE SEA

Boat rides, diving and the coast add another dimension to the island.

THE MOUNTAINS

Pico do Areeiro, Ribeiro Frio and high viewpoints bring drama to the journey.

A CLOSER LOOK

Madeira rewards movement. Walk a levada, drive through the forest, descend from the mountains and return to Funchal for food, wine and gardens.

LOCAL FLAVOURS

Black scabbardfish, limpets, espetada, bolo do caco, sugarcane and Madeira wine make the island's food story unmistakably local.

THE TABLE

Selected dining can be tailored around the traveller, the group and the pace of the day.

SLOW RITUALS

Food belongs to the journey: local rituals, markets, producers and long meals create context beyond the plate.
